NOTES

1. For romanized names of shi, ku, machi and mura, see Table 1.
2. Of the statistical tables presented in this report Tables 15 through 22, which have been tabulated on the basis of twenty percent sample questionnaires, are due to sampling errors and, therefore, not necessarily consistent with those in the other tables tabulated on the basis of 100 percent questionnaires. For further details, see Sampling Procedure and Reliability of Estimates.
3. Of areas appended to the table titles, "prefecture" indicates that the tables are tabulated for the urban and the rural as well as for the whole area of the prefecture in addition to the cities with 500,000 inhabitants or more in the prefecture. A mark "＊" denotes that the DID (Densely Inhabited District) figures have also been compiled. However, some of the areas given in the table titles are not printed in this report. For the consultation of unpublished figures, see Appendix 2 in this report.
4. A mark "-" denotes zero.
